

22T16z Abraham's Promises- PREVIEW

Hello my friends. Thanks for joining me @ the PUNLA coffee table In recent years, I've heard a lot about the promises God has made to the modern nation of Israel. When I started doing a little research on these claims, it appeared all the claims seemed to believe that the promises made to Abraham in the Bible applied today to the modern nation of Israel or the Jewish people as a whole. This seemed logical to me but my questions were many. What are these promises? Why do we believe they apply to modern Israel? Why and how do promises to Abraham apply to all his descendants for all time. Does this even make sense. And so on.

People don't even seem to agree on how many promises God made to Abraham. But let's not worry about the number of promises, but instead what was promised. There are many promises made to Abram and then Abraham. In this series, I want to focus on just four of them. The promise that Abraham will be the father of many nations and kings. This includes the promise of so many descendants they can't be counted. The promise of the land of Canaan or the Promised land. The Promise that the whole world will be blessed through Abraham and the last promise, the Promise to bless those who bless Abraham and curse those that curse him.

In the next few sessions, we will explore these promises in the Bible. We will track them through Abraham's descendants and God's many reconfirmations to Isaac, Jacob and the nation of Israel. Let's see if we can find support in the Bible for this idea that the promises made to Abraham, also apply to the modern day nation of Israel or even the modern Jewish people as a whole. I'm excited to see what the Bible says.

Let's pray.

Lord Jesus, thank you for your word, the bible. I'm so thankful that we can studied your word and have a discussion about it. Help us to see the big picture you paint with all your words in the bible, not just a single brush stroke or verse. Amen
